DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 2/1/2008 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.
4. Claims 1, 16, and 28-29 are drawn to a method, device, and memory device of identifying whether a sequence is a semantic unit. In order for a claimed invention to be considered statutory under 35 U.S.C. 101, it must be useful and accomplish a practical application. That is, it must produce a "useful, concrete and tangible result" (State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373-74, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02). In the present case, the final result of claims 1, 16, and 28-29 only refers an indication of whether the sequence is a semantic unit and not the actual tangible application of the semantic unit. As such, claims 1, 16, and 28-29 are directed to non-statutory subject matter. The dependent claims fail to overcome the 35 U.S.C. 101 rejection directed towards independent claim 1, 16, and 28-29, and thus, are also directed to non-statutory subject matter.
